PARTNER

Michelle is a Partner with Grau & Associates and has more than 20 years of experience in providing auditing and consulting services to public and private sector clients. She is responsible for developing and maintaining client relationships with governmental, non-profit, employee benefit plan and other audit clients while providing critical compliance and advisory services. In addition to working with governmental clients to convert their financial reporting to comply with new standards, Michelle is in charge of overseeing internal and external peer review projects. Her primary focus is currently on serving special districts and municipalities, 401K plans and non-profits.

Michelle presented at the 2009 Florida Association of Special Districts (FASD) Annual Conference, where the global focus was navigating new opportunities for the future and building the leaders of tomorrow. She is the pioneer for going paperless in the accounting industry, using her Firm as the paragon and helping others understand the benefits of utilizing technology to improve efficiencies and business processes related to accounting. Her advice and direction in this area applies not only to the accounting industry, but also to all businesses that perform accounting and operational activities on site.

Michelle has presented continuing professional education courses for the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants, provided seminars to clients on specific topics of interest and has served on panels and provided lectures to the community in the areas of accounting and auditing.

Michelle is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants (FICPA), and Florida Government Finance Officers Association. A past President and Treasurer of Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Broward County, she currently serves as the Treasurer for the Delta Gamma fraternity's Boca Raton alumnae group and as Assistant Treasurer for the First United Methodist Church in Boca Raton.

Michelle is licensed as a Certified Public Accountant in the state of Florida. Contact her:
